Covid -19 Newsletter

Welcome to the March Newsletter. So much has changed for all of us over the last few weeks and I would never have imagined that my focus of a newsletter would be entitled Covid -19. I hope that you are all keeping well and staying safe through these difficult times. All the staff, from the Welfare Assistants to the teachers, are missing their daily interaction with learners; their smiling faces and their eagerness to learn.

Home Learning

I would like to say thank you to parents for all that you have been doing to keep learning going during this time. We know that everyone is doing their best; please do not worry if everything is not complete. These are tough times and we understand the different pressures that each family faces. For example, with younger/older children; work commitments and dealing with self-isolation. We will continue to do our best to send activities and support but know that there are many alternative ways to learn new skills and gain new experiences. Children need to keep sharing all their good learning stories with their teacher. I would also like to say a big thank you to all teachers and support staff for their continued commitment and tremendous effort in maintaining learning and keeping avenues of communication open.

Here are some pictures that our learners have sent in so far....

This is AA in 1S practising his spellings

This is KA in 1M doing his home learning.

This is H A in Year 6 working on his baking skills

This is Z A in Year 4 working on her key learning skills

Parent Information Sheets

All teachers have prepared these for you. If you would like them to be emailed to you, please send a request to your class teacher. This is the quickest way of getting it to you.

The staff at Marsden will still be available to support your child's learning at home. We are sending you teachers' email addresses so that if you need any further support or clarification about learning tasks to be completed while at home you can keep in touch with them. Emails will be responded to during school hours only and must only relate to your child's learning. Any other updates will be given via text message or on our website. On line home learning can be found on the school website using the following link: <https://marsden.schooljotter2.com/class-blogs/home-1> and will be updated on Friday every week.
